

We show respect by
listening to others,
taking care of our
things and using our manners.

We are caring when we are nice to others
and use nice words
when we are talking.

We are good communicators because we listen to others when they are talking and we put our hand up when we have something to share.

We show confidence
when we present our work, speaking clearly
and facing the audience.

We are principled
when we tell the truth,
are respectful to others
and look after our things.

We show appreciation
to the world around us
because we are grateful for where we live.

We show creativity by giving our best effort
and making our work
detailed and neat.

We show empathy
when we help our friends when they are hurt.

We are risk takers when we try new things in our classroom. We can make new memories!

We show co-operation
when we work together to learn more!
